Introduction

The Cornell National Social Survey is a survey of adults, age 18 and over, who are residents of the continental United States. The survey is managed and administered by the Survey Research Institute at Cornell University (SRI) and is sponsored by the Office of the Senior Vice Provost.

Questions for CNSS were submitted by researchers at Cornell and selected by the SRI Advisory Board. The prefix of each variable’s name indicates the responsible faculty or researcher.

EPq2a: Why would take legal action

[cyan]Suppose you bought a new house from a developer and, after six months, the roof begins to leak. You contact the developer to remedy the problem and he claims it is not his responsibility. How likely are you to take legal action in this case?[cyan]

What is the [yellow]most important[cyan] reason why you would take legal action?[green]

Read all of the options (1-4 below) and ask the respondent to choose the most important one. Do [yellow]not[green] use "other" for responses like "all of the above". The question asks for the [yellow]single most important[green] reason, so you may need to probe to get just one answer.[white]

<1> Because you don't want the developer to do this to someone else
